

Heber Doctor Maps Vacation

By HAROLD H. SMITH

HEBER—Dr. T. A. Dannenberg, who has been a physician and surgeon in Wasatch, Summit and Duchesne counties for the past 43 years, is closing out his private practice in Heber to give himself and Mrs. Dannenberg a brief vacation before he resumes his study of medicine.

Although he is 66 years of age, Dr. Dannenberg will pursue a lifetime ambition to further study internal medicine, with special interest on the liver.

After graduating from Physicians and Surgeons college in San Francisco in 1904, Dr. Dannenberg served his internship at Morton hospital in San Francisco and then came to Utah.

He opened his first office in Kamas and in 1926 moved to Heber, where he has maintained his practice and his private hospital for the past 20 years.

Eleven times during his career as a physician and surgeon in Utah he has gone to the east coast or to Europe for advanced study and research.

Dr. Dannenberg was born in Rome, Tex., in 1880. Mrs. Dannenberg is a native of Kamas, having been born there in 1881. She has been the chief nurse for her husband's hospital and for many years served as his anesthetist.

The couple have three children, Mrs. Alma Forbes, Berkeley, Cal.; Ralph A. Dannenberg, Trinidad, Colo., and Dr. Thurman T. Dannenberg of the Permanente Hospital, Oakland, Cal.

England are forcing the British drastically to reduce their commitments in this area. Unless the Americans fill the resulting power vacuum, the Soviets will surely do so.

What is needed is a firm Anglo-American agreement for an over-political and economic pro- for this entire region. The
